New!

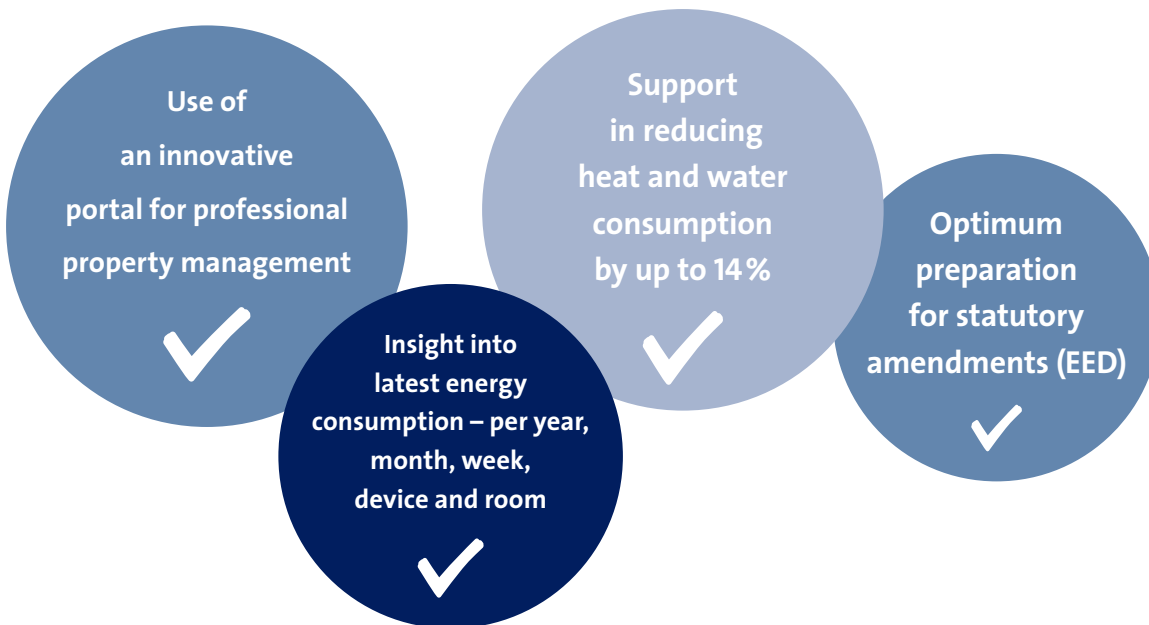

Greater transparency – for the consumption behaviour of residents

Until now, it was difficult for residents to draw conclusions about their own energy consumption behaviour from the annual ancillary cost bill. But that is now changing. With the new resident portal, ista connect, you are enabling residents to call up their latest consumption data – from anywhere and at any time. You are therefore helping your residents to optimise their energy consumption and save hard cash.

Everything at a glance: easy-to-understand consumption comparison with ista connect.
